

EXERCISE 5 — RECOGNITION PRACTICE

Module 1 Workbook

Purpose

Gnosis is not acquired. It is recognised. This exercise trains the capacity for recognition — the ability to see what has always been present but previously overlooked.

Investigation

For seven days, record one moment each day when you recognised something you had not seen before — about yourself, others, or reality.

Day	What I recognised
Day 1
Day 2
Day 3
Day 4
Day 5
Day 6
Day 7

Reflection

- Review your seven entries. What patterns do you notice?
- What conditions were present when recognition occurred?

- Can you create conditions that make recognition more likely?

Recognition

Recognition is not effort. It is attention without agenda.

Practice

Continue this log beyond the seven days. Make it a permanent practice. Recognition deepens with attention.
